From the North.

The Sacramento Union contains the following:

Seattle, March 2.

The heaviest snow storm of the season has just terminated with clear cold weather. The depth of snow varies from one to five feet. The telegraph was badly broken by it.

Sailed, February 26th, ship Helois, for San Francisco. The steamer New World, just purchased to run on the Sound between Olympia and Victoria, arrived here to-day in twenty-six hours from the mouth of the Columbia river.

Portland, March 2.

From the Walla Walla Statesman of February 22d, we learn that Mrs. Clark, of Wallsburg, came to a sudden death by taking an overdose of medicine.

A coal vein has been discovered near Walla Walla.

A new town site has been laid out at a wood yard near St. Helena, on the Columbia.

Victoria, March 5.

The sloop General Havelock, from New Brighton and bound for Victoria with a load of farm produce, ran on Ten Mile Point, a short distance beyond this place, at 9 o'clock on Sunday night, and almost immediately afterwards went to pieces. The crew clung to the house and floated ashore, where they traveled about all night in the woods. The night being one of the most inclement of the season, they suffered severely. The sloop and cargo will prove a total loss. We learn that the American ship Mary Glover is ashore at Port Discovery and badly injured. The bark Iconium, from San Francisco, is ashore at No Point, and the bark Washington is high and dry on Dungeness Spit. The United States steamer Lincoln is endeavoring to tow the last named vessel off. All these vessels were drove on shore on Sunday night.

SKATING EXTRAORDINARY.—The Cedar Hill Skating Park was crowded with the elite and beauty of the city on Saturday afternoon, the cause of the gathering being the skating match for the championship of the city, announced to take place at 4 o'clock. At the time appointed the contestants for the championship entered their names. They were ten in number.

A double railing had been made lengthwise across the park, leaving an avenue about 80 feet wide—and in this the contestants were to exhibit their skill—the premium to be awarded to the individual who could skate with the greatest rapidity and grace, and cut the most gyrations. Five judges were appointed to award the premiums and certificates. At 4 o'clock exactly the trial of skill began, and each one of the youth went through his performance with great skill and dexterity. One of them wrote the alphabet on the ice with his skates almost as fast as a person could recite it.

Another wrote a verse from the Bible; a third drew a likeness of Butler; a fourth marked out "the path to prosperity;" a fifth drew a picture of a blind man leading a dog; but the sixth one capped the climax. He drew a glistening promissory note for $10, and marked out the place for the revenue stamp to be stuck on it. He then wrote out an affidavit that he was entitled to the premium, and whirling quickly, dropped on his base on the ice on the affidavit, but rose to his feet at once, leaving on the meltable document a stamp as near like a notary-public's stamp as could be. After these exploits, the judges put their heads together, and awarded the premium to F. Lammott. Certificates were awarded to Henry Price, L. C. Robinson, and J. G. Speed. The awards of the premium and certificates were very justly made, and the assembled crowd testified their approbation by continual applause. It then commenced sleeting and the crowd dispersed, the Fourth street cars being crowded with the throng returning to the city.—Louisville Courier, Jan. 16th.

BENEDICT ARNOLD.—A RELIC OF THE TRAITOR.—The New Haven Palladium says: "We have seen the identical sign that used to hang out of the store of Benedict Arnold when he traded in Water street in this city, and we present below a copy of it as near as a sign can be copied on paper. It is about three and a half feet long, and two and a half broad. The sign is black, and the letters look at first glance as if put on with yellow paint; but, on close inspection, they are discovered to be gilt.

The sign was found some time since in the garret of the house in which Arnold lived, (opposite his store), and is now the property, we learn, of Mr. Jacob T. Hotchkiss, who has permitted it to be deposited in the Museum. We have followed the style, proportions, and pointing of the letters on the sign very nearly. There was one peculiarity, however, that we could not well imitate, viz., the dots of the i's in the motto, which on the sign are inverted commas, instead of mere dots. It will be seen that there is no point between the name and the occupation. Both sides of the sign are almost precisely alike. The motto, 'Sibi Totique," is translated thus—"For himself, for the whole," or "for all." The first sentence is most decidedly appropriate to the man, who was "for himself on all things."

B. ARNOLD DRUGGIST,
Book-Seller, &c.—
FROM LONDON.
Sibi Totique.

When Arnold was in London, we are at this moment, unable to tell. He was engaged when there in the trade of horses and mules to the West Indies, and it is probable that his visit to London was while he was in business, though that is mere conjecture. He was born in Norwich, in this State, in January, 1740, and was apprenticed to an apothecary in this city, and a very troublesome apprentice he was too.

FROZEN IN THE SNOW.—The Sacramento Union says:

We are informed by E. L. Robinson, who has recently returned from Virginia City, that John Bezan, lately a butcher at Cold Spring, was frozen to death, February 20th, in a snow storm on the Dutch Flat wagon road. On the day mentioned he left Ingham's Station on foot for the Virginia House, some three miles distant, but perished before reaching there, and the body was found February 24th and buried four feet under the snow. The remains were taken to the Virginia House, for inquest. He was a native of London and aged twenty-six years.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

Intolerance in these latter Days.

Freedom of religious opinion, and the undisturbed right to worship God, are not only fundamental principles under our government, but have well nigh come to be recognized throughout all the civilized world. They are, indeed, the peculiar characteristics of the age in which we live. The days of the Spanish Inquisition, and of religious intolerance, have passed away, never more to return, and are condemned wherever light and liberty and civilization hold sway. Yet even now, in the midst of the nineteenth century, freedom of religious worship is not only not guaranteed or permitted, but absolutely prohibited at Rome. By order of Cardinal Antonelli, we learn from our exchanges, the Protestant churches have been closed inside the walls of the Holy City. This order may be justly regarded as one of the most extraordinary, inexplicable, and we may add, suicidal acts of the Pope, and will call, as it has called, down on his head the condemnation of all the Protestant nations of the world.

The heroic Cretans are struggling bravely against the Turks for religious liberty, and in their struggle, and because of it, they receive the sympathies of all Christendom. One of the deepest causes of complaint of Ireland against England is that the mass of her population—Catholics—are forced to sustain the Protestant ecclesiastical establishment by burdensome taxation. We have no doubt that the Pope himself thinks that Protestant England is very intolerant and cruel towards Catholic Ireland. Yet he has forbidden Protestants to assemble for worship at their private chapels inside the walls, and, it is strongly intimated, that service at the house of the American legation will be prohibited. There never has been in Rome an organized Protestant church establishment, or church building publicly devoted to worship. This has arisen partly because of the smallness of number of Protestants in the Holy City, but mainly because it is prohibited by an old law, order, or decree, mouldy with time. But for several years past, Scotch Presbyterian service has been held in private apartments, (up at least one pair of stairs,) with an average attendance of from forty to a hundred persons, of all nationalities. This assemblage has been prohibited by Antonelli, and the communicants compelled each Sabbath to go outside the walls for worship. Whether even this latter privilege will long be accorded is doubtful.

It is not alleged that there has been any impropriety committed at these church gatherings, nor have they even tended to any breach of the peace. There seems to be no reason assigned or existing, to save the order of Antonelli from being truly stamped as unmitigated, unjust, and pitiful intolerance. Hertofore, the United States have maintained diplomatic relations with Rome, through a minister resident there. During the closing hours of the last session, Congress struck from the Appropriation Bill the clause providing for the salary and expenses of the legation at Rome. It is presumed that the President will take this as a significant hint, and withdraw our minister from the Papal dominions, should it indeed prove true that our citizens are not to be allowed the privilege of worship there, according to their own chosen forms and creeds. The press throughout England and America have freely characterized the action of the Papal Government as the scandal of the age. England battered down the cities of China, to secure the rights of her missionaries—Catholic as well as Protestant—to penetrate the Celestial Empire, and Commodore Perry, in the name of civilization, with his ships of war opened the ports of Japan. Yet in Rome, the old mistress of the world, and the seat of learning as well as of empire, we find an exclusiveness and intolerance, only equaled in China and Japan. A correspondent of the London Times, referring to the subject, says:

Antonelli's reply to the remonstrance of the British Charge d'Affaires was most decided. He ventured to affirm that the Papal Government had no previous knowledge of the alleged illegal services, and that it was startled into action by the fact of their existence being laid in information by the Cardinal Vicar. By him it was laid before the Pope, who, in accordance with his oft repeated condemnation of the tolerance of heretical worship in Catholic countries, ordered steps to be taken. Hence, Mons. Rondi's complaint to the British Consul, and the letter of the latter to Mr. Lewis. The whole proceeding is a novelty, and indicates a change of domestic policy only to be accounted for by the increased latitude the departure of the French has left to the extreme clerical party, now, doubtless, determined to carry out the stringent ecclesiastical rule which has for a long time been in abeyance. It appears that Antonelli expressed to Mr. Russell his personal regret that he could not give a more favorable answer to his application. He is clear-sighted enough to foresee the indignation this sudden outbreak of intolerance will arouse; but he has to deal with a power stronger than his personal opinion, and he can maintain his position only by deferring to it.

I further know, that Antonelli has thrown out a hint that the American service, which is not now held in the house of the United States Legation, but in a separate hired room, will also be put down. As regards the Scotch service, a large room outside the walls of Rome had already been hired yesterday, and the service was to be performed in it this day. If the Pontifical authorities interfere again to prohibit, even extramural worship, it is difficult to say what further steps can be taken to move a government to insensible to shame, and which shows so little gratitude for the equality of rights accorded to its followers in Protestant England.

DAMAS MONTEREEZ.—Mr. James Halloran has withdrawn from the editorial chair of the Mountaineer. His valedictory appears in the issue of that paper of March 2d.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, March 15.

The Senate, on motion of Grimes, agreed to hold a evening session to-day.

A concurrent resolution to amend the joint rule prohibiting the sale or introduction of malt or spirituous liquors in the Capitol building was adopted.

Chandler, from the Committee on Commerce, reported an amendment to the 9th section of the Act to protect the lives of passengers on steamboats, etc., so as to exempt steamboats from being compelled to carry friction matches in iron safes. Passed.

Pomeroy introduced a bill to secure the speedy construction of the Southern branch of the Union Pacific Railroad and Telegraph line, and authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds to the Company. Also, introduced the bill of last session granting lands to aid the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from Lawrence, Kansas, to the boundary line between the United States and Mexico, in the direction of Guaymas. Referred to the Pacific Railroad Committee.

In the House, Hulburd offered a resolution requesting the Speaker to appoint a Committee on Public Expenditures; such committee to take into consideration the report of the Committee of the last House on the subject of New York Custom House frauds, and report what action is advisable in the premises. Hulburd made a speech, declaring the New York Custom House under Collector Smythe's administration as reeking with corruption, and characterized Smythe as a vampire, sucking out the life blood of the commerce of New York, hampering commerce, and making it subordinate to his personal aggrandizement and political objects. No action was taken.

The Speaker presented a Message from the President, with a letter from the Secretary of State transmitting additional information from our Minister at Rome on the subject of the reported removal of the American Protestant church from Rome. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Rufus Mallory, member from Oregon, was qualified and took his seat.

A resolution offered by Logan calling for the immediate appointment of the Committee on Military Affairs was, after debate, postponed until December next by a vote of 69 to 56. [This vote may be considered as an indication of the temper of the House on adjournment.] Another resolution for the appointment of a temporary Military Committee was tabled—63 to 56.

Van Wyck, from the Committee on Retrenchment, to which was referred a resolution relative to the coin claimed by the Richmond banks, now on special deposit in the U. S. Treasury, reported a joint resolution directing the Treasurer to place the amount (about $100,000) in the treasury until the claimants assert their right to the same in the Court of Claims.

On motion of Wilson, of Iowa, the resolution was amended so as to direct the sale of the coin and bullion and the payment of the proceeds into the U. S. Treasury. The resolution then passed.

Fernando Wood made some remarks to the effect that Collector Smythe of New York, whether criminal or not, had not the capacity or discretion to fill a place of such magnitude and importance.

The Herald says the present and prospective condition of the labor market is exciting considerable interest among the laboring classes of the city. Advanced rates of remuneration, with few exceptions, are contemplated only by men of the building trades. Ship building is dull. Mechanics employed are working at reduced wages at present. The unsettled state of the labor market is unparalleled.

New York, March 16.

A Georgia correspondent of the Times says the efforts being made in Georgia to arouse the people to the duty and necessity of taking an active part in reorganizing their State Government under the bill of Congress, meet with little response. The people don't like the terms imposed, and are therefore disinclined to take any action under them. He also tells of the presence in Augusta and elsewhere of professional agitators, who are doing everything in their power to arouse the prejudices of race and color and to array blacks against whites.

The Times' Ogdensburg, N. Y., correspondence says the Fenian excitement is reviving in that direction. Fort Wellington, at Prescott in Canada, has been put in a state of defence and garrisoned with troops. The ferry boats have been ordered to discontinue night trips. Many strangers, supposed to be of the Fenian persuasion, are in the vicinity. The St. Lawrence river, being frozen from shore to shore, affords a good crossing for an army. The Fenians in Ogdensburg hold secret meetings nightly.

A Times special says that delegations from the South are arriving at Washington daily for the purpose of obtaining the views of the President on the Military Reconstruction bill. Governor Jenkins, of Georgia, [illegible] a delegation from that State [illegible] known, and, among the [illegible] involved in the operation of the bill will call attention, will be the repudiation of the State debt. Since the close of the Georgia Legislature, it seems, [illegible] now paying the old debt of the State by issuing bonds, which, being issued under authority of the present government, are by the Congressional bill declared illegal, and are worthless. And all the rebel States are in the same predicament, having issued bonds in this manner.

A Tribune special says it is generally believed there will be no nomination sent to the Senate at present for Naval Officer of New York, and Mr. Franklin will therefore hold the place. It is understood Thurlow Weed effected this while in Washington last week. But on the other hand, one or two applicants for the office, now at the Capital, assert that the President has positively promised to send a nomination to the Senate for that position before Congress adjourns.

A Herald special says that the system of checks against an over issue of Government bonds and securities is such that it would require collusion between five different officials through whose hands they pass, and by each of whom they are counted, to accomplish it. As there is no evidence of this, the reports of over issues are attributed to the efforts of the "bulls" in gold.

In the British House, Disraeli announced that he would, on March 18th, introduce a new Reform bill and move for its second reading.

FROM THE WEST.

[From the [illegible] Daily Alta.]

San Francisco, March 11.

The steamship Sierra Nevada arrived this [illegible] Mazatlan and other ports in Mexico.

An American gentleman who came on the steamer from Mazatlan states that it was reported in the City of Mexico was evacuated by the French troops on the 5th of February. Juarez had issued a proclamation [illegible] provisions for the French forces leaving Mexico. Maximilian went with the French troops, and it was reported that he had stated that he was compelled by the French commander to leave Mexico instead of remaining and relying on the people as before promised. The troops at last accounts had reached Vera Cruz, where the transports and men-of-war were making rapid progress for their embarkation. After the evacuation of the City of Mexico the place remained quietly in the control of the police forces until the 17th of February, when the Liberal forces, under General P. Ovaria Diase, took possession, awaiting the arrival of President Juarez. The latter left the city of San Luis Potosi on the 12th of February, and on the 17th of that month had arrived at the town of Queretaro, only two days travel from the capital. The report that Ortega had been shot by order of Juarez is untrue. He was under guard at San Luis Potosi at last accounts. Joaquin Miramon, brother of the Imperialist General, had been taken near Zacatecas and shot as a traitor. In the last engagement with Miramon, 150 Frenchmen had been taken by the Liberal General Escobado, and as they had left the service of France to join the Imperial cause, they were ordered to be shot at San Jacinto, between Zacatecas and Agua Caliente. The city of Morelia, which had been previously reported besieged, was evacuated by the Imperialists under General Mendez, and was afterwards occupied by the Liberals under General Regules. The fall of Morelia left no garisoned place in all Mexico in the hands of the Imperialists, and the forces of Miramon and other Imperial officers were hiding through the country endeavoring to escape, and so far as known had no organized forces in the field.

Judge Sawyer rendered an important decision this morning, on a motion to strike out a portion of the complaint in the suit of Eben. Johnson against the Bulletin proprietors, to recover $50,000 for the publication of an alleged libel. San Francisco, March 12.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Irishmen and friends of Ireland was held last night at Union Hall for the purpose of expressing sympathy for those struggling against English rule in Ireland. Resolutions pledging themselves to use their utmost endeavors to encourage and sustain the revolution which has been inaugurated in Ireland, by free contribution of means for that purpose were adopted.

It was reported at Mazatlan when the steamship Sierra Nevada left, that the somewhat celebrated Colonel D'Artois, the hero of the brig Bosco piracy and two libel suits in this city, had been killed in a fight between the Imperialists and Liberals near Durango.

Northern Mines.

The Owyhee Avalanche has the following:

Judge Hays, President of the Oro Fino and Morning Star Mining Company, says they expect to commence work about the first of April, and that the Company will make the necessary preparations.

One hundred and thirty-three and one-third feet in the Discovery claims of the Empire quartz-lode, on War Eagle, have been sold recently for fifteen dollars per foot, and the money paid. This indicates "business."

Reports from the Dashaway continue to be encouraging, both as regards size of the ledge and quality of the ore. The amalgamators in the Shoenbar Mill are being overhauled and improved, preparatory to grinding a grist from the Dashaway.

It is reported that the Sherman ledge in Flint district has been sold to Chicago parties. Should this prove true, we believe the parties have made a profitable investment. It is no wildcat affair, but the sale of a large ledge of wonderful richness.

Messrs. Warnkee and Swart, of Flint, have struck a vein of superior ore in the Leviathan. Various reports agree that this strike from a side tunnel shows better for the mine than any previous work.

Just as we go to press a friend has brought in some exceedingly rich specimens of gold and silver ore from the Rising Star Mine. They are wondrously rich, and plenty more like them where these come from.

SNOW SHOES AND THE GIRLS.—The Grass Valley Nacional gets off the following:

Snow-shoe traveling is "all the go" now, in the mountains above us. In fact, it is the only way in which anybody can go. Men, boys, women, girls, all go it on the "slide" or the "climb." The gals look rosy "you bet;" you ought to see them with their poles, poling northward. The Polar Bear, himself, would not object to hug them.

THE ASSESSORSHIP STILL UNSETTLED.—When the news was received a day or two ago that T. J. Blakeney had been appointed U. S. Assessor of the Fourth District, and that the appointment had been confirmed by the Senate, it was generally supposed that the prolonged contest was at last settled, and that we should in a few weeks have an Assessor whose official right to the office none would dispute. This conclusion, it appears, was not well founded. Ex-Governor Bigler, on examining the law yesterday, came to the conclusion that Blakeney was ineligible, because the law requires that the officer must be a resident of the district for which he is appointed, and Blakeney has resided in San Francisco during the past eighteen months. Inquiries were made by telegraph, and the information returned, that Blakeney had voted in that city, and had claimed a residence there within the time named. On this state of facts, we understand it to be Bigler's intention to contest Blakeney's right to the possession of the office.—Sacramento Union, March 7th.

NEW YORK, February 28th.—The President has sent to the Senate for confirmation the following Californians:—Lieut.-Col. Babbitt and R. W. Kirkham, as Deputy Quartermaster Generals; C. H. Fry, as Deputy Paymaster General; C. J. Sprague as Paymaster; T. J. Tidball as Brevet Lieut.-Col.

The Supreme Court, in the case of Townsend vs. Greeley, has decided that the pueblo lands are not subject to sale on execution, as they are held in trust by the pueblo for the benefit of the inhabitants. The decision of the others, among them the Peter Smith cause, was similar.

The Secretary of the Interior has forwarded an opinion to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, appertaining to the rights of the Central Branch of the Union Pacific Railroad, saying that it is entitled to the increased subsidies of lands and bonds under the Pacific Railroad Act. The value of the land embraced in the opinion amounts to three and a half millions of dollars.—Alta California.

SAN RAFAEL.—A Dispatch dated at San Rafael, March 4th, says:

Peter Dolan, an old resident of Corte Madera, in this county, has been missing since Thursday night last, and is supposed to have fallen into the creek at Ross Landing, and drowned. It appears that on the night in question, he was at the rum-mill at the Landing in a state of intoxication, and left about midnight to go home, since which time nothing has been heard of him. His horse was found near the creek, likewise his hat. The creek is now being dragged, in hopes of finding his body, should he have been drowned. Dolan was an Irishman by birth, and aged about thirty-eight years. He leave a wife and several children near Corte Madera.

On Saturday a child of Juan Garcia, aged about six years, was drowned at Olema by falling into a creek.
